MASTERCLASSES

ASTIN Masterclasses is a series of online masterclasses on a wide range of non-life insurance topics taught by the greatest minds of the actuarial profession and renowned authorities on risk and insurance. They are fully interactive covering topics from such key areas of interest as financial stability and enterprise risk management, regulatory changes, data science and artificial intelligence in insurance, climate change and catastrophe risk, cyber risk, and InsurTech and disruptive technologies.

Webinar on The Art and Science of Actuarial Loss Reserving With Greg Taylor

Greg Taylor is an Adjunct Professor in the School of Risk and Actuarial Studies at University of New South Wales (Sydney, Australia). Greg Taylor was a founding director of Taylor Fry Consulting Actuaries, where he acted as a consultant for 15 years. Prior to the foundation of that company in 1999, he worked as an actuary in the finance and insurance industry for 30 years, and a further 8 years as an academic. He is an Officer of the Order of Australia, and recipient of one of the only two Gold Medals ever awarded by the Actuaries Institute of Australia. He also holds the Finlaison Medal (Silver Medal) of the UK Institute and Faculty of Actuaries. He specialises in the theory of Insurance Loss Reserving, and has authored two books, and co-authored a third, on the subject. One has been translated into Japanese. He has lectured and held research positions in many academic and industry institutions in Europe and the North America..

The webinar on 26 March with Greg Taylor is free to attend!

Join Greg Taylor for a webinar introducing his 8-part Masterclass on The Art and Science of Actuarial Loss Reserving.
